

Sheikh Saleh Kamel: two verses in the Quran if they were applied the unemployment problem will be solved

Businessman Sh. Saleh Kamel stressed that unemployment is hotbed fertile of terrorism and a key factor in the generation of extremist ideology among the youth, pointing out that Islam organized the economic side and not only the acts of worship.

Sh. Saleh Kamel noted that there are two verses in the Quran if they were applied the unemployment problem will be eliminated completely, the first verse is (It is He Who hath produced you from the earth and settled you therein) and the second (and We raise some of them above others in ranks, so that some may command work from others).

This came during the Egyptian-Saudi Joint Business Council meeting on Wednesday, which revealed that there are three Saudi thousands of companies operating in the Egyptian market and provided more than two million jobs, as well as there are 1300 Egyptian companies working in the Saudi market, pointing out that this information is not known to many Saudi and Egyptian investors.

Sh. Kamel describes Egyptian-Saudi relations that it is permanent and stronger than any handful want to differentiate between them, stressing that the value of investor is not by how much he owns, but how much jobs he can provide.
